COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

One mile of the Grover Hill Road has been reconstructed with Town Road Improvement Funds. The final figures on cost of construction will not be available until the end of this week, but it is certain to be less than the $6,000 allocated for the project. It has been the usual practice for several years to apply asphalt treatment on a road of this type. But due to the lateness of the season it will not be done this year. In any event it will first be necessary for the Selectmen to approve surface treatment.

The stockpiling of 1,200 yards of sand for sanding ice was started on Monday. This is the same amount as stockpiled last year, which proved sufficient for the winter.

Total excise tax receipts to Oct. 23rd are $18,963.78 as compared to $18,685.75 last year.

Currently 43 families consisting of 164 persons are receiving surplus food. 29 of the families live in Bethel, the remainder in surrounding towns for which Bethel is reimbursed for handling costs. The following were distributed last month: butter, 160 lbs.; dried egg, 67 cans; dry milk, 594 lbs.; lard, 222 lbs.; cornmeal, 305 lbs.; flour, 820 lbs.; dry beans, 278 lbs.; pork and gravy, 138 cans; rolled oats, 162 lbs.; peanut butter, 91 lbs.; and chopped meat, 64 lbs.

Sincerely,

Harold L. Bean

V. A. NEWS LETTER
Pension paid to veterans who hold the Congressional Medal of Honor has been increased from $10 to $100 per month by a new law enacted by the 87th Congress.

The Veterans Administration administers payment of this pension.

The new law lowers the age requirement for eligibility from 65 to 60 years, and eliminates the requirement of having an honorable discharge, the VA pointed out.

While all who are currently receiving the $10 pension will automatically have their payments increased to $100, veterans who receive the Medal of Honor in the future, and those who presently have the medal for heroism in combat service but are not receiving the pension because they are under 65 years of age, will have to apply for the pension in order to receive it, the VA added.

CHILD PEDESTRIAN SAFETY EMPHASIZED

With the reopening of schools for the fall term, the Maine State Police today emphasized the importance of child pedestrian safety.

"When it comes to children in traffic," observed the enforcement agency, "each of us must accept—without any reservation—the fact that he must be his brother's keeper."

The police pointed out that children, by their very nature, are careless, excitable and unthinking.

"We adults realize this fact," they continued, "yet, many of us seem to expect these youngsters to have mature judgment and a thorough knowledge of speed and stopping distances." They reminded drivers that these youngsters live in a world that is part reality and part dream. Many times, they find it difficult to distinguish between the two.

"Lost in this dream-world, children frequently forget to be careful," added the police. "When this happens, their carelessness often leads them into danger. Obviously, this calls for additional caution on the part of all motorists."

Pointing out that parental teaching and good example are tremendously important in child safety training, the enforcement organization concluded:

"Although we realize that children are inexperienced and inclined to forget safety rules, we can help keep them out of traffic difficulties by consistent teaching and by setting a good example in traffic. As parents and as responsible adults, our teaching and our example in traffic are our most important factors and their importance cannot be over-emphasized. All adults, therefore, have parts to play in this child pedestrian safety program as drivers, as parents, or as grown-up pedestrians. Each and every one of us must accept his responsibility for keeping the youngsters safe in traffic."

WET LEAVES ARE DRIVING HAZARD

"Danger! Wet leaves!" The above warning was issued by the State Police today as Maine's beautiful foliage began to trickle slowly to the ground.

"Soon, our streets and highways will be covered in many places with a blanket of leaves. Beautiful as they are on the trees, these leaves can be a disastrous trap for the unwary driver. As they become wet, they 'grease' the road, creating a condition which poses the threat of a dangerous skid."

"Drive over leaves as you would drive over ice," cautioned the police. "Drive slowly and use your brakes cautiously. Don't be caught unawares and don't discount the danger of this situation. Wet leaves are a very real, a very definite driving hazard."

Maine Fish and Game Department. He says mistaken identity shootings are by far the most serious, and the most tragic, year in and year out.

Marsh says that in most cases of mistaken identity, the hunter had seen or heard a deer shortly before the accidental shooting. Thus, he was all keyed up, hoping and fully expecting to see a deer any minute. In this over anxious frame of mind, nearly everything may be mistaken for a deer. (One hunter even mistook a hunter for a goose!)

Many of these mistaken identity shooters are veteran hunters, Marsh points out, not beginners who don't know what a deer looks like.

When a hunter is tense, gun ready, fully expecting to see a deer any second, he needs to be doubly cautious.

Marsh, joined by all other Maine game wardens, urges hunters to be careful in the woods this fall. Remember, he says, a rifle bullet can be dangerous for three miles. Above all, wardens urge, don't let yourself get into that dangerous state of mind when you're over-anxious and shoot too quickly. Relax—think before you shoot! Most important, be sure—absolutely positive—that you know what you're shooting at, before you pull that trigger!

COUNTRY FLAVOR

YEAR'S TWILIGHT

This is the last full month of autumn and the twilight time of year. Dawn breaks slowly these chill, frosty mornings and the sun seems to rise reluctantly into a washed-blue sky.

It is twilight time for Nature. Black frosts have laid bare hands on the grasses. The meadows, fields and uplands are a patchwork quilt of faded browns and grays. In the woodlands, the oaks and maples, birches and hickories have dropped their leaves to start the magic process of returning to the original humus that gave them birth. Only the beeches and oaks hold their foliage, and when a pulsing breeze filters through the leathery, brittle leaves, the haunting melody reminds one of distant autumn.

Summer birds have left for a warm climate, and the alto chant of chickadees and mournful calls of nuthatches harmonize with the waiting spirit of November. Many animals have gone into the magic sleep of hibernation. Below the frost line, they will sleep the days and weeks away until the miracle of spring brings them to active again.

Summer songs are ended and the green that clothed the countryside is faded. Cold winds are beginning to whistle from the north, and a man knows that Winter is nearing. It is the twilight of Year, but to him who appreciates the rhythms of the annual cycle and who knows that the Master Plan is based on wisdom, the end of a season is not sad. This is the ordained schedule. It is one of the virtues. And only on the virtues can a man find his faith.

THE AMERICAN WAY

THE CONSERVATIVE MOVEMENT

By Willis E. Stone
Stone is author of the "Proposed Liberty Amendment" and Chairman, National Committee for Economic Freedom, Los Angeles, Calif.)

The National Committee for Economic Freedom held its annual Leadership Conference in Chicago, Sept. 14 and 15, to discuss techniques for developing public understanding of our constitutional liberties.

The business session with National Vice-Chairman Gordon Van B. King of New Jersey presiding, unified the work of the states into a highly coordinated program.

Effective new facilities were demonstrated. There were three interesting short films on "How We Live" dealing with basic economics and produced by the American Economic Foundation of New York City.

A dramatic portrayal of the reasons for our spectacular growth in America was provided in a 15-minute film-strip titled "American Free Enterprise" produced by the California Free Enterprise Association of Buena Park, Calif.

There was also a preview showing of a new television series being prepared under the title, "Symposium for Freedom." In this film, an hour-long discussion of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT takes place, with critical questions presented by a housewife and a college student. The answers illustrate the effective power of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT to protect us from an all-powerful bureaucracy.

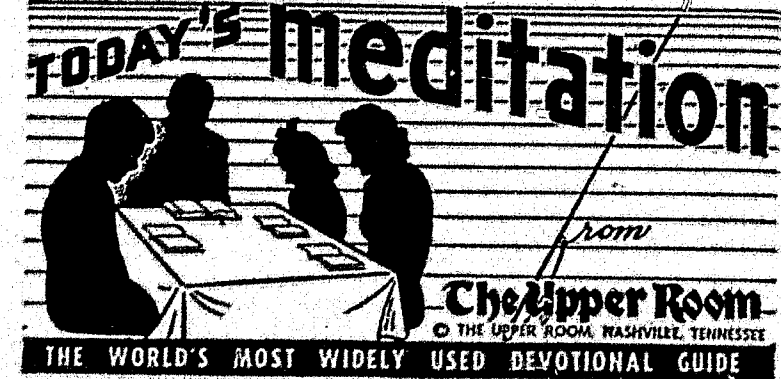

Congressman James B. Utt of California, who introduced the LIBERTY AMENDMENT into Congress as H. J. Res. 23, addressed a dinner meeting of delegates from every part of the nation. He vividly pointed out the dangers creeping upon us through bureaucratic expansion and international encroachments and then illustrated the ability of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT to control this danger. The Amendment will restore constitutional government and revitalize the States. By removing the federal individual income tax it will restore a full day's pay for a day's work and increase labor's productive capacity and incentive.

Congressman John Roussellot, in a luncheon address to a capacity audience, gave a comprehensive picture of the encroachments upon our free institutions and stressed the need for the LIBERTY AMENDMENT to restore the full vigor and glory of our constitutional way of life.

Extensive and intensive studies of techniques, telling the American story to the American people, were developed by state leaders. Under co-chairmen Lloyd Herbatsmith of Wisconsin and George Peck of Florida, the use of various media was studied.

Mrs. Polly King Rubenstein of Colorado and Dr. Charles Pavey of Ohio co-chaired a panel studying ways and means of building close cooperation between all existing organizations in support of our American philosophy.

Dr. Ernest E. Anthony, Jr. of Texas and Dan Hanson of Wyoming were co-chairmen of a panel discussing ways and means of developing home

Read Jonah 2; Luke 11:29-26
"When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the Lord; and my prayer came to thee, into thy holy temple." (Jonah 2:7, RSV.)

Has there ever been anyone in a more desperate situation than Jonah? Disobedient to the Lord, trying to avoid his divine mission, and trying to escape from the presence of God, he was in deadly peril as the Lord passed judgment on him. In his despair, he cried to God. His prayer shows his utter devotion to the Lord. It gives voice to his passionate reverence for God's holy temple.

In his prayer, Jonah renounced all allegiance to idols. He renounced an unshakable faith in God's redeeming power. He praised God for deliverance, as if it had already happened. He re-dedicated his life to the Lord, and his prayer found acceptance.

To his own unbelieving generation, Jesus held up Jonah as an example of repentance. He also used Jonah's condition and deliverance as a symbol of His own death and resurrection.

PRAYER: Our Father, we pray Thy forgiveness for all disobedience to Thy will in our lives. Help us by Thy grace to surrender ourselves completely to Thee; through Christ, our blessed Redeemer, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

Dr. Curtis W. Caine of Mississippi, together with Charles Reynolds of North Carolina, co-chaired a panel developing techniques for serving the members of the Legislature, enabling the lawmakers to more accurately know the thinking of the citizen.

A fifth panel under the co-chairmanship of David Watson of Hawaii and Roger Williamson of Connecticut discussed the design of state organization, structure and mechanics for more wide-spread understanding of the Constitution and its intent and purposes.

held its two-day national Constitution Day convention with still more view-points on the peril which confronts us because of expanding bureaucracy. Again the LIBERTY AMENDMENT loomed big as the center of universal support in the conservative movement.

The amendment, already formally approved by the States of Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, and Louisiana would restore the Constitution, restore state sovereignty and restore personal earnings to the producer which are now chipped away through the income tax route. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

SR. M. Y. F. Sunday, Oct. 22, 1961, the Sr. M. Y. F. went on a hay ride. We left the church at 6 o'clock. On the way we had a short business meeting to find chaplains for the dance next Friday night for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades. They are Stephen Dock, Randy Chretien, and Rose Ann Farrington. The worship service next Sunday will be led by Tim Brooks and Ed Tibbets. We had a roll call, and it showed that there were 25 members present. Then we closed our meeting and enjoyed the cold ride.

All the members of the M. Y. F. would like to thank Bill Chapman for the use of his truck and hay. We would also like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown for donating time to drive and chaperone. Respectfully submitted, Secretary, Nancy Brown.

INVESTMENT REVIEW

Periodically we like to review stocks which we have recommended in the past. This article will be devoted to some of these recommendations.

Last May we wrote a column on European Securities. The international situation surrounding the Berlin Crisis and the continuing political strife in France has caused a general decline in European stock prices. Unless some satisfactory solution is reached on Berlin, a further decline may be expected while any recovery should be slow in coming. Therefore, we would only recommend holding these securities by patient investors. Those who feel a satisfactory solution will be reached in Berlin should buy Thyssen and Siemens & Halske.

Domestically, we are inclined to favor the "blue chips" especially American Can, American Telephone and General Electric.

There are still some good values among growth stocks. Of these we particularly like Arco, Duke and Quaker Oats.

Some cyclical stocks may be bought in anticipation of further recovery and we suggest Freeport Sulphur, International Paper, St.

Regis Paper and Warner & Boscawen. With the stepped-up Government Spending Program, there appears to be a good likelihood of further inflation and Amerasia Corporation is a good inflation hedge.

Railroad stocks are doing better and we particularly recommend Norfolk Pacific.

Finally, with a good year indicated for the automobile industry, we look for better things from the auto equipment stocks. Arvin Industries has particular merit because of its potential participation in the anti-smog field.

Mrs. Madelin Mathieson of Bangley has moved from her home to stay with her daughter, Mrs. Helen Cameron, through the winter.

Mrs. Alice Cameron who is a patient at the Stewarston Hospital recently received a letter from General Eisenhower, which reads: Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, October 13, 1961. Dear Mrs. Cameron: From a good friend of mine—Senator Everett Dirksen—I have learned of your recent illness. I am terribly sorry, and I do hope that soon there will be a marked improvement in your condition. You might be interested to know that just yesterday someone sent me a portrait he had painted of your husband and myself in a trout stream. I recalled vividly the pleasure I had in his company some years ago. With best wishes, in which Mrs. Eisenhower joins. Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Mr. and Mrs. George Strangier with their two sons, Joey and Scott, of Berlin who spent the week end at their farm in Magalloway called on Mrs. Mabel Cameron Sunday afternoon. They will not be up this coming week end as they plan to visit friends in Newport, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of Jordan Falls, N. S., celebrated their 50th anniversary last week. The Walkers are former residents of Magalloway, having lived with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Leavitt on their farm for many years. After Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt died the Walkers sold the farm and moved back to Nova Scotia. Claude C. Linnell owns the place and has it for his summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Janelle are at their camp at Wilson's Mills.

His care through early childhood was the best. With doctors, dental care, and all the rest.

They gave him all the finest foods to eat—French vegetables, whole milk, and fruit and meat.

He studied at the most expensive schools; Learned courtesy and grace and all the rules; He toured the U. S. A. and foreign parts; And dabbled some with music and the arts.

"Most likely to succeed," they said, no less—He certainly was headed for success.

When he was graduated—just this year—We figured he'd enjoy a great career.

But, sad to say, poor Bill is not alive.

THEY JUST FORGOT TO TEACH HIM HOW TO DRIVE!

HEALTH FOR ALL

Anyone Can Do It—Practically

For thirty years I smoked two packs of cigarettes a day. Now I haven't smoked one for two years. No, I don't feel specially smug about it, I did the first time and that was my undoing. You see this is the second time I gave up cigarette smoking. The first time was a few years after the first lung cancer warning came out. At first I didn't pay much attention to them.

First they said heavy cigarette smoking did cause lung cancer. Then they said it didn't. Then they said maybe. But finally most reports seemed to show that there is a relationship. What's more, I had a smoker's cough. A real lulu. Every single morning I'd cough myself purple in the face. The doc said I'd cough as long as I smoked. So I decided to quit. Sheer will power and determination, that's all it took. And three weeks of misery. I did stop. For a year. Did I feel smug about it? I could take it or leave it.

I was so sure of myself that after awhile I'd say to a friend after dinner, "Let me have a puff of your cigarette." That's

New officers for the year are: President, Merri York; Vice President, Laurie Brown; Secretary, Chris Bailey; Treasurer, Bobby Buker; Flag Bearer, Terry Wilson; Cheer leaders, Nancy Brown, Becky Brown, and Carol Sue Brown. all. Just a puff or two. Then an occasional cigarette. Before I knew it, I was right back where I'd started—two packs a day. And coughing again.

So I decided to give it up again. But this time I did it differently. I'd seen where will power got me—nowhere. Instead I kept reminding myself what a filthy disgusting thing cigarette smoking was. How horrible those filled-up ash trays smelled. What a vile taste cigarettes left in my mouth. What a filthy thing it really was to smoke. How disgusting. How weak.

I pounded away at those weak, filthy, disgusting words until I'd got myself thoroughly conditioned. Like Pavlov's dogs. I really think I'd shudder and be nauseated if I tried to light a cigarette today. No thanks. I'd rather not try it, if you don't mind.

GOULD ACADEMY

Undeclared Teams Meet Saturday

On Saturday undefeated Gould Academy will be entertaining Lisbon High, also undefeated. This should be a thriller and fans in Western Maine are looking forward to this all important game. Game time is 2:00 p. m. on Alumni Field.

GOULD 33-KENNEBUNK 13

Gould continued its winning streak last Saturday, but not until the Kennebunk players had put a scare into the Husky camp. With less than four minutes of the first half left to play, Kennebunk came from behind twice to tie the score at 13 all. With time running out, Scott Cummings passed to Steve Parent for a 50 yard touchdown play. This gave Gould a 20-13 lead at the half-way mark.

The Rams never threatened again after the half as the Gould defense seemed to have solved the tricky Kennebunk double wingback plays. In the final period, Parent romped 21 yards for the fourth T. D. of the day. Later Melville scored from 5 yards out over the K. H. S. right end.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

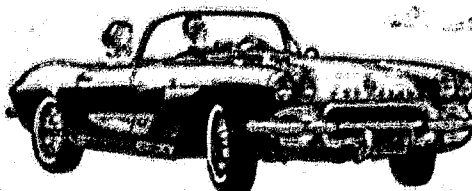

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

AVERAGE ADULT FUNERAL IN U. S. COST $708 IN '60

The cost of the average regular adult funeral selected in the United States during 1960 was $708. When all services conducted are considered, the figure was $575. That is what the annual study of Funeral Service Facts and Figures, conducted for the National Funeral Directors Association by Eugene F. Foran points out. Neither of these figures include vault, clothing, cemetery expense, honorarium for the clergyman, flowers or additional transportation charges.

Seventy-eight per cent of all services held were regular adult funerals. The survey shows they produced 96% of the funeral home fee income. Children's, charity and welfare funerals and service and shipment bills constituted 22% of the total services, but produced only 4% of the fee income.

Of the regular adult services, 22% of those selected were priced between $200 and $499; 48% between $500 and $799; 21% between $800 and $999; and only 9% were over $1,000. The study reveals that the average "profit margin" per funeral of all services conducted, even including vault and clothing sales, was $54. Salaries are the largest item of funeral home expense, the survey declares. Other major expenses are maintenance of building and furnishings, merchandise cost, automotive equipment and taxes. The investment range per establishment is from $67,724 for funeral homes conducting an average of 57 services per year to $366,579 for those that averaged $538 funerals in 1960. The average funeral home owner's salary was $8,402.
